

New ocean view home in Big Sky Ranch South of San Juan Del Sur
USD $219,000

Overview:

The only new construction home in Big Sky Ranch is up for grabs. This charming home was just completed in March 2022.

This two-bedroom, two-bathroom has a deck big enough to make anyone envious. The kitchen is compact with everything needed for simple living. The poured concrete countertops and Granada-style backsplash tile add a stylish touch to the space.

The kitchen island is big enough for two to dine and if more space is needed step out onto the monstrous deck where there is plenty of room for a full-size dining table. The kitchen and living area are both open flowing from one to the other.

This house has several smart-designed build-ins, including the couch, that make the compact space feel bigger than it really is.
